Comments – Jeremy Slagle

- Great content!
- Excellent presentation!
- What an inspirational journey and was thrilled to watch his development process. Excellent!
- Outstanding! You almost told my life story... very similar. Loved it!
- Very engaging, but it was more of his life story than actionable info, I felt.
- I loved Jeremy. I'm going to quit by job next year and finally go it alone!
- Very inspiring, great presentation
- Super inspirational! Thank You!
- Loved the presentation and his positive message
- A good reminder to stay positive and look for opportunities — and that not all people suck all the time (forgive me, work is tough right now).
- Jeremy was inspiring and the work was beautiful.
- This was amazing
- Very inspirational but I didn't take any notes, of any practical takeaways.
- I really like hearing about other designers' creative journeys
- So inspiring and funny! Favorite speaker so far. Makes me want to be a better designer for sure!
- Inspirational!
- I gave the future question a 4 only because it was a personal journey so this exact one would be repetitive but definitely more first-hand inspirational account like this and have Jeremy back for something else because he's a great storyteller!
- He was awesome. Very moved by his work and words.
- Excellent session, well organized and structured —very inspiring!
- Such an inspiring presenter! I loved seeing his work with good design for good causes and his advice on the value of a nonlinear life path. Had a lot of useful takeaways. And it was mind blowing to see his project challenges and then his brilliant solution for them. More speakers like him please, this is exactly what hope you see at UCDA!

- Jeremy was incredible! I never once thought “ok, you can move on now” like I sometimes do, but instead wanted more. He brought his presentation full circle and ended with true stories, showed STUNNING artwork and visuals, and was funny. I could have listened to him all day!
- Jeremy has a great story and creates beautiful work. Sometimes seeing a portfolio like his can be intimidating, but it reminded me that we’re all capable of incredible things if we can trust the process and follow our hearts. (And practice...a lot!)
- To have such a talented artist speak that was so inspiring, motivating, funny, kind, Christian is the icing on the cake. And he showed amazing work and talked about his journey. Wish every session was at this level! Thank you!
- Great. He could have done more sessions!!
- Very inspirational
- Favorite talk of the whole conference. I was so inspired, I thought I’d explode!
